Subject: RE: Coral Reef bleaching and Hawaii sunscreen issue

This has arisen in inquiries from Maui County, which is considering adopting an ordinance regulating use of key ingredients in sunscreen. There was some pushback from dermatologists and others. We have no particular expert. There are available in retailers (drugstores etc) sunscreens without the targeted ingredient(s), though they're more expensive - formulated for what I believe are Euro regulations in place. I'll try to find our Maui reply and send it to you.

Hi all. Have a request from Peter Fimrite at the Chronicle to talk about this and though I got to go to one CRTF meeting, I'm no expert. Who should I send him to, even on background?
Thanks,
Felicia
